

What we need from you to launch.

Your website is built and working. Every page currently carries placeholder text, photography and figures written to demonstrate the design. This pack lists exactly what real information is needed to replace them – section by section, in the order it appears on the site.

How to use this document

Work through the sections in any order. Where the site already contains a placeholder, it is shown in an orange-marked box so you can either confirm it or correct it — you do not have to write everything from scratch.

Three ways to return it.

1. Write directly into this PDF and email it back.
2. Print it, complete by hand, and scan.
3. Use it as a checklist and send the content in a document or shared folder, keeping the same section numbers.

Priority markers.

ESSENTIAL Blocks launch — the page cannot go live without it.

IMPORTANT Should be real at launch; a sensible interim version is possible.

OPTIONAL Can be added after launch without rework.

Photography specification.

All imagery on the site is currently licensed stock. To use your own:

- Landscape shots: 2000 px wide minimum, JPG
- Team portraits: 900 × 1200 px minimum, vertical, plain or blurred background
- Logos: SVG preferred, otherwise PNG with transparency
- Send originals, not screenshots or images pulled from social media
- Confirm you hold the right to publish each photograph

A note on honesty.

Statistics, project figures and testimonials on the site are currently invented for demonstration. Please replace them with figures you can evidence. Anything you are unsure about, mark "cannot confirm" and we will remove that element rather than publish a number that cannot be defended.

About the practice

The narrative that runs across the home page introduction and the top of the About page. This is the most-read copy on the site after the headline.

ESSENTIAL

COMPANY INTRODUCTION – 100 TO 150 WORDS

Who you are, what you do, since when, and across what geography. Write it as you would explain the practice to a prospective client who has never heard of you.

WHAT GENUINELY DISTINGUISHES YOU FROM OTHER CONSULTANCIES?

Be specific and, ideally, provable. “We are the only practice in the region with in-house UAV survey” is useful; “we are committed to excellence” is not.

SIX REASONS A CLIENT SHOULD APPOINT YOU

The site shows these as a numbered register. Current placeholders: Technical Excellence · Experienced Professionals · Integrated Solutions · Client-Focused Approach · Quality & Safety · Sustainable Engineering. Confirm, reword or replace.

Projects & portfolio

The portfolio is the most persuasive part of the site. It currently holds sixteen entirely fictional projects with invented clients and figures — all of it must be replaced.

ESSENTIAL

Before you start: check whether your contract with each client permits you to name them and publish photographs. Where it does not, we can still show the project with the client described generically (“a provincial infrastructure office”). Mark those clearly.

WHICH OF THESE PEOPLE SHOULD ALSO APPEAR AS LEADERSHIP ON THE ABOUT PAGE?

Testimonials & references

Five quotes are currently shown, all invented. Written permission from the person quoted is required before any of these can be published.

IMPORTANT

What makes a testimonial work. A specific one is worth ten generic ones. "They told us the intake would silt within three seasons and showed us the data" persuades; "a pleasure to work with" does not. If you can, ask the referee to name the problem you solved.

- ☐ Email to a named address

Insights & news

Four placeholder articles are in place. This section is the strongest tool you have for search visibility and for demonstrating technical depth, but only if it is genuinely maintained.

OPTIONAL

DO YOU WANT TO PUBLISH INSIGHTS?

☐ Yes – we can write regularly ☐ Occasional news only ☐ Remove the section

An unmaintained news page damages credibility. A page whose most recent item is two years old suggests a practice that has gone quiet. If you cannot commit to roughly four posts a year, it is better to remove it now and add it later.
